

Braskem Odebrecht/Odebrecht Award for Sustainable Development

Award for undergraduate students in all engineering fields, architecture, building and construction management, and chemistry. By submitting a paper that outlines contributions to sustainability, students have an opportunity to win $65,000 in cash prizes for themselves, their faculty advisors and their universities. Ideas can be related to efficient, real-world uses of sustainable materials, new chemical and petrochemical processes or new building techniques. Must register at web site to enter.
