

Comedy Defensive Driving/Getting Real About Distracted Driving Scholarship

At Comedy Defensive Driving, we believe that quality education is too damn expensive for many students and should be obtainable for everyone. If you are up for trying something meaningful to help achieve your goal of a college education, then design an advertisement against distracted driving. You will be judged based on the quality of the content in terms of marketability, and how it effectively convinces drivers to stay focused on the road. To qualify, you must like the Comedy Defensive Driving Facebook fan page, take the pledge to not use your phone while driving, and definitely not to drive while you're buzzed.. And definitely don't use your phone if driving. All forms of ads are accepted including PSA, music, billboards, media, graphics, etc. No time restraints, however, keep in mind that you are making an advertisement, not a Ridley Scott movie. Overt profanity, and nudity of any kind will not be allowed. Plagiarism automatically disqualified. There is no GPA requirement, financial requirement, or any other kind of requirement--just knowing you are making the effort to get out of bed and do something positive before noon qualifies. Please submit files (all formats accepted) to scholarships@comedydefensivedriving.com only. We will not be judging based on anything other than the advertisement, so don't sweat over an introductory email; just give us your name, and the best way to reach you if you win. Submission deadline is 4/30/16 and the recipient will be announced by 5/
